PREFACE

THE BIBLE is the greatest book on recovery ever written. In its pages we see God set out on a plan for the recovery of his broken people and creation. We meet numerous individuals who are able to take their lives back through the wisdom and power of God. And we meet the God who is waiting with arms outstretched for all to turn to him, seek his will, and experience his healing. Some of us come to the Bible with baggage. We may wonder whether God exists. Or even if we think he does exist, we may wonder whether he is good, or whether he cares about us. Our hope is that you will encounter the God of grace, love, and redemption in the pages of The Life Recovery Bible.

Many of us are just waking up to the fact that we need recovery. We might define recovery this way: It is the simple but challenging process of daily seeking God's will for our lives instead of demanding to go our own way. It involves letting God do for us what we cannot do for ourselves while also taking the steps necessary to draw closer to our creator and redeemer. It is allowing God to heal our wounded souls so we can help others in the process of their own healing. All of us need to take part in this process because no one is perfect. It's an inherent part of being human.

Let us set out together on the journey toward healing and newfound strength—not strength found within ourselves, but strength found through trusting God and allowing him to direct our decisions and plans. This journey will take us through the Twelve Steps and other materials designed to help us focus on the provisions our powerful God offers for recovery. The Life Recovery Bible will enrich our experience and expand our understanding of the God who loves us and sent his Son to die that we might be made whole.

Without God there is no recovery, only disappointing substitutions and repeated failure. We pray that the resources within these pages will help us all better understand who God is and how he wants to heal our brokenness and set us on a path toward wholeness.

A Willingness to Surrender

The goal of this Bible is to help us move from wherever we are to a place closer to God, closer to those who love us, and closer to those who may have given up on us. It is likely that if you are reading this, you are aware you have some kind of problem. Being aware of our struggles is certainly better than remaining blind to them. It is the place where we start our journey toward recovery. Some of us become aware of our problems during a moment of quiet reflection. Some of us wake up through a confrontation with a friend brave enough to tell us the truth. Still others of us become aware of our brokenness through a tragic, life-changing event like incarceration, divorce, separation, or the death of a loved one. Although coming to this point of awareness is painful, it is essential to move us along toward repair, resolution, and recovery. But awareness alone cannot produce lasting change.

In this Bible you will see examples of good things in our world, things created by God, who is the source of everything good. But you will also discover truth about the evil found in this world. The Bible introduces us to Satan and his plan for stealing, killing, and destroying the good in our lives. Satan has been working to plant destruction in God's good world from the beginning, and he's been doing the same to each of us. What Satan really wants is for us to become like him. He wants us to turn away from worshiping God and to begin to worship ourselves instead. He wants us to think of ourselves as all-knowing, all-powerful, and in control of our own lives. He wants us to think of ourselves as God.

If we think we are in control, it becomes hard for us to deal with the problems in our lives. First, we will likely be slow in even recognizing them. Then when things get so bad that we can't deny our problems, Satan's work intensifies, and he leads us to believe that we have what it takes to fix ourselves. So even if we're aware of our problems, we can still remain blind to the real solution. We can fall right in line with millions of others who are the "supreme beings" in their own lives. We hang on to the false belief that we have all we need to produce a healed, happy, and fulfilled life. So just being aware that we have a problem isn't enough. We must also become aware of our limitations. We need to become convinced that we need help from the outside. And we need to want help badly enough to swallow our pride and ask for it.

But even when we are aware of our problems and understand our limitations, we still need something more. We must have the desire and the courage to change what we see. We must be willing to change. The psalm writer rightly prays in Psalm 51:12, "Restore to me the joy of your salvation, and make me willing to obey you." Willingness is not easy or the psalm writer wouldn't have asked God to help him with it.

When we have a willing heart, then we no longer need to worry about whether or not we have the power to heal ourselves or transform our own hearts. We are in the best position to change when we have surrendered ourselves completely to God—that is, when we can finally admit that we have a problem we are powerless to change, and when we are willing for God to not only change the problem but to change our hearts along with it.

The Life Recovery Bible is the most powerful tool available to help with all phases of recovery: becoming aware of our problems and our need for help, developing the desire to change, and gaining the willingness to do whatever it takes.

Staying the Course in Life Recovery

The Life Recovery Bible is a unique tool that brings Twelve Step recovery back to its original source—God's Word. The founders of Alcoholics Anonymous drew on the Bible's wisdom as the source for the Twelve Steps, especially the Sermon on the Mount (Matthew 5–7), the book of James, and the famous "love chapter" (1 Corinthians 13). There is nothing in the Twelve Steps that opposes truth found anywhere in Scripture. As we work through the Twelve Steps, it will become clear how these Steps reflect the path God has chosen and revealed in Scripture for the rescue and transformation of broken lives.

No matter where we are in the recovery process or how many defective plans we've tried in the past, if we stay the course on our Life Recovery journey, there is hope. We can rely on the strength found by walking with others, entrusting our lives to God, and allowing him to direct our decisions and plans. If we stay the course, we will journey through the Twelve Steps and utilize other Life Recovery resources to help us focus on the provisions that our all-knowing and all-powerful God provides for recovery. The Life Recovery Bible is designed to enrich and expand our experience of this God who loves us so much that he provided a way for us to find an abundant life now and ultimately to spend eternity with him in heaven.

We are delighted that you have chosen this second edition of The Life Recovery Bible as a tool to help you discover what God wants for you or someone you care about. As you study God's Word and progress through the steps, please use our website to share your recovery progress and experiences (www.liferecoverygroups.com). Or perhaps for you, this is your first step toward starting and leading a Life Recovery meeting or group. If so, look up the articles at the back of this Bible related to starting and leading a group. Also, log on to our website so we can interact with you more directly.

A WORD ABOUT ADDICTIONS

SOMETIMES THE FIRST STEP toward overcoming an addiction is to learn something about it. There are two general categories of addictions. One category, chemical or substance addiction, results from someone ingesting alcohol or some other drug simply to feel different. Not everyone develops a chemical addiction to alcohol, but other highly addictive drugs can trap anyone who tries them.

Those who have begun to use alcohol to ease pain should watch for danger signs that indicate they are susceptible to addiction. People who develop serious alcohol issues often have the ability to “handle” their drinking (that is, they can drink a lot without it having much of an effect on them). Another danger sign is binge drinking, when a person consumes a lot of alcohol in an evening or a weekend but doesn’t drink again for several weeks. They point to their long stretches without alcohol as proof that they don’t have a dependency problem, but they do. Another danger sign is having others in the family tree who have been alcoholics. Heredity is a factor and indicates a much higher probability of becoming addicted to alcohol. Watch for these signs—they spell trouble.

Becoming addicted to a drug can start innocently. We may use drugs in order to fit in with friends, not knowing how powerfully addictive the drugs are. Sometimes, people get a legitimate prescription from a doctor. It may help for a while, but then its effects wear off, and soon more and more is needed. Some people may end up actually getting prescription medications on the street, as well as through a doctor. Others try to self-medicate by using illegal drugs. It begins as a way to escape the pain, but the need for more can easily become a compulsion and then an addiction. The user feels trapped and gradually gets loaded down with shame and guilt.

The other general category of addiction, process addiction, involves using less obvious methods to try to handle emotional pain. These compulsive behaviors are related to a process instead of a substance, like drugs or alcohol. These behaviors start out in small ways and are seemingly innocent. Some people may think they can control these behaviors, but when they try to stop, they realize the repetitive behavior controls them.

Gambling or compulsively spending money may be a way we try to deal with our problems. We may find that we are always short of money or are drawn to the excitement of gambling with its random rewards. Even video games may become our escape from a painful reality. Check it out. Decide to not play any video games, gamble online, or spend money for thirty days and see how uncomfortable it is. Each of these activities can become a process addiction.

Process addictions involving eating can be a big issue. Eating is one of the things we think we can always control, but there are three ways eating can be a problem. One problem, overeating, happens when people look at food as a source of comfort. When they are in emotional pain, they turn to food in order to feel good again. Another eating problem involves binge eating and then having to purge what was eaten. And then there is the very serious problem of people not eating enough. Because they think they are fat, some people control their eating habits and chronically lose weight, leading to life-threatening physical problems.

Using the Internet can become a problem that leads to devastating addictions. Spending too much time searching the web, even too much interaction on social media, can keep us from living in the real world. Or our Internet use may involve pornography. Many think that viewing pornography is a problem limited to men, but it can be just as big a problem for women. Research says that the age group most commonly looking at pornography on the Internet is young people—as young as eleven years old. Habitually viewing pornography can affect the brain in the same ways as a chemical addiction and can have devastating effects on our relationships.

Sometimes, people inflict pain on themselves to distract them from their emotional pain. They usually do this by cutting themselves. The reasons for this behavior are complex, but basically it is a way to feel something different—physical pain instead of emotional pain—and it is a way for them to feel alive. If they bleed a little, they know they are still here and that they are not invisible. This can become a very serious addiction.

These are some of the ways we may attempt to handle life's problems. We can get caught up in one of these chemical or process addictions and then get angry with ourselves because we can't stop. We can begin recovery by recognizing that it's not all our fault, but then we also need to begin to take responsibility for the choices we make. What you do in response to these problems will determine the course of your life, whether you know it or not. You are in control of your choices right now. Look to the resources in this Bible and to others who understand you and love you. You should not—you cannot—walk this path of recovery alone.

AN EARLY HISTORY OF LIFE RECOVERY

IN 1935 Bill W. and Dr. Bob, who were deeply involved with the Oxford Group movement, founded Alcoholics Anonymous (AA). They were seeking to live out the Oxford Group's Four Absolutes—absolute honesty, absolute purity, absolute unselfishness, and absolute love—as they helped others find the sobriety they were experiencing.

In those beginning days of the program, there were no Twelve Steps. Instead, they had six precepts relayed by Ebby T., who was Bill W.'s sponsor. Here are the six precepts:

- We admitted we were licked.
- We got honest with ourselves.
- We talked it over with another person.
- We made amends to those we had harmed.
- We tried to carry the message to others with no thought of reward.
- We prayed to whatever God we thought there was.

From these precepts, the Twelve Steps emerged. Dr. Bob, Bill W., and Dr. Samuel Shoemaker spent hours discussing as they studied portions of the Bible that aligned with their Oxford Group experiences and supported their own recovery journeys.

Three portions of Scripture were specifically identified as foundational in the development of the Twelve Steps: the Sermon on the Mount, which includes the Beatitudes (Matthew 5–7); the book of James, which focuses on several Twelve Step fundamentals; and “the love chapter” (1 Corinthians 13). All three of these portions of Scripture clearly established the Christian and biblical roots of AA and the Twelve Steps. Having come out of their study of the Bible, these early pioneers were careful to include nothing in the Steps that would counter any truth found in God's Word.

In the early days of AA, when conservative Christian values and truths were unapologetically used to help others in recovery, the success rate was quite amazing. The book Dr. Bob and the Good Oldtimers tells how Dr. Bob called every newcomer to the first AA group to “say a prayer to God admitting you were powerless over alcohol and your life was unmanageable.” Nearly 93 percent of those surveyed in the Akron group never relapsed. For an addiction that had resulted in hopelessness and helplessness for centuries, this result was truly amazing.

We can only imagine what it was like to hear of alcoholics being “cured” (as the unknowing world called it) when anyone getting better from a real addiction to alcohol was considered the result of a divine miracle. We can compare what was happening there to what people would think today if 93 percent of people with stage IV incurable and inoperable brain cancer who went to Akron, Ohio, miraculously found healing there. Every media outlet would send someone to discover what was going on. Back then, 93 percent of alcoholics getting better caused such a stir that the wealthy John D. Rockefeller Jr. sent his son to find out what was going on to produce this miracle. When he reported back, he told his dad that they all had experienced a conversion experience with God.

In order to remove any barriers to inclusion based on religious views, AA did not use explicitly Christian language in their literature. They referred to God mostly as “God as we understood Him” or as the “Power greater than ourselves,” allowing for a variety of religious perspectives. As time passed, most people forgot the strong connection between the Twelve Steps and the Bible, and recovery became a secular practice with many connections to medicine and psychology. In recent years it has been difficult to reestablish the connection between Christian values and successful recovery programs that use the Twelve Steps. We are honored to be part of a movement that brings the Twelve Steps back to Scripture through the publication of The Life Recovery Bible, the creation of additional Life Recovery resources, the formation of The Life Recovery Institute, and the establishment of Life Recovery groups around the world.

At a meeting in 1991, Tyndale House Publishers partnered with Stephen Arterburn and David Stoop to create The Life Recovery Bible, which includes traditional study Bible features along with devotionals to give fellow strugglers a meaningful connection to God’s Word. This Bible is designed for people involved in Twelve Step recovery programs who have longed for a tool that integrates the Twelve Steps with Scripture. Introducing them to the true Power greater than ourselves, the God of the Bible, The Life Recovery Bible provides a strong biblical foundation for recovery. And for people who know the Bible but are in need of recovery, it introduces them to the Twelve Steps in a Christ-centered recovery program.

Using this Bible as your primary tool in the context of Twelve Step meetings and working the Steps, your life can be transformed. You can become one of many people who have allowed God to take over what they could not control and now believe what they once found so hard to accept.

One of the first readers of The Life Recovery Bible was suicidal and addicted to crack cocaine. After six months with this Bible, her life was completely transformed by Jesus, and she quickly stepped forward to help other women find recovery. When asked what happened, she replied, “I stopped believing the lies of Satan and started believing the truths of Jesus Christ.” She was the first in the history of Life Recovery to experience a transformed life while using and applying the truths found in this Bible. History has since repeated itself with millions of others. The transforming truth in God’s word is now available to you. We pray that God’s truth in this Bible will provide the foundation for an amazing life of recovery and restoration.

THE TWELVE STEPS OF LIFE RECOVERY

1. We admitted that we were powerless over our problems—that our lives had become unmanageable.
2. We came to believe that a Power greater than ourselves could restore us to sanity.
3. We made a decision to turn our wills and our lives over to the care of God.
4. We made a searching and fearless moral inventory of ourselves.
5. We admitted to God, to ourselves, and to another human being the exact nature of our wrongs.
6. We were entirely ready to have God remove all these defects of character.
7. We humbly asked God to remove our shortcomings.
8. We made a list of all persons we had harmed and became willing to make amends to them all.
9. We made direct amends to such people wherever possible, except when to do so would injure them or others.
10. We continued to take personal inventory, and when we were wrong, promptly admitted it.
11. We sought through prayer and meditation to improve our conscious contact with God, praying only for knowledge of His will for us and the power to carry that out.
12. Having had a spiritual awakening as the result of these steps, we tried to carry this message to others and to practice these principles in all our affairs.

The Twelve Steps used in the Twelve Steps devotional reading plan in this Bible have been adapted from the Twelve Steps of Alcoholics Anonymous.

THE TWELVE STEPS AND SCRIPTURE

The Twelve Steps have long been of great help to people in recovery. Much of their power comes from the fact that they capture principles clearly revealed in the Bible. The following page lists the Twelve Steps and connects them to corresponding Scriptures that support them. This will help readers familiar with the Twelve Steps to discover the true source of their wisdom—the very word of God.

STEP 1: We admitted that we were powerless over our problems—that our lives had become unmanageable.

"I know that nothing good lives in me. . . . I want to do what is right, but I can't" (Romans 7:18; see also John 8:31-36; Romans 7:14-25).

STEP 2: We came to believe that a Power greater than ourselves could restore us to sanity.

"God is working in you, giving you the desire and the power to do what pleases him" (Philippians 2:13; see also Romans 4:6-8; Ephesians 1:6-8; Colossians 1:21-22; Hebrews 11:1-10).

STEP 3: We made a decision to turn our wills and our lives over to the care of God.

"Dear brothers and sisters, I plead with you to give your bodies to God because of all he has done for you. Let them be a living and holy sacrifice—the kind he will find acceptable" (Romans 12:1; see also Matthew 11:28-30; Mark 10:14-16; James 4:7-10).

STEP 4: We made a searching and fearless moral inventory of ourselves.

"Let us test and examine our ways. Let us turn back to the LORD" (Lamentations 3:40; see also Matthew 7:1-5; 2 Corinthians 7:8-10).

STEP 5: We admitted to God, to ourselves, and to another human being the exact nature of our wrongs.

"Confess your sins to each other and pray for each other so that you may be healed" (James 5:16; see also Psalms 32:1-5; 51:1-3; 1 John 1:2-6).

STEP 6: We were entirely ready to have God remove all these defects of character.

"Humble yourselves before the Lord, and he will lift you up in honor" (James 4:10; see also Romans 6:5-11; Philippians 3:12-14).

STEP 7: We humbly asked God to remove our shortcomings.

"If we confess our sins to him, he is faithful and just to forgive us our sins and to cleanse us from all wickedness" (1 John 1:9; see also Luke 18:9-14; 1 John 5:13-15).

STEP 8: We made a list of all the persons we had harmed and became willing to make amends to them all.

"Do to others as you would like them to do to you" (Luke 6:31; see also Colossians 3:12-15; 1 John 3:10-20).

STEP 9: We made direct amends to such people wherever possible, except when to do so would injure them or others.

"If you are presenting a sacrifice at the altar. . . and. . . someone has something against you, leave your sacrifice there at the altar. Go and be reconciled to that person. Then come and offer your sacrifice to God" (Matthew 5:23-24; see also Luke 19:1-10; 1 Peter 2:21-25).

STEP 10: We continued to take personal inventory, and when we were wrong, promptly admitted it.

"If you think you are standing strong, be careful not to fall" (1 Corinthians 10:12; see also Romans 5:3-6; 2 Timothy 2:1-7; 1 John 1:8-10).

STEP 11: We sought through prayer and meditation to improve our conscious contact with God, praying only for knowledge of His will for us and the power to carry that out.

"Devote yourselves to prayer with an alert mind and a thankful heart" (Colossians 4:2; see also Isaiah 40:28-31; 1 Timothy 4:7-8).

STEP 12: Having had a spiritual awakening as the result of these steps, we tried to carry this message to others and to practice these principles in all our affairs.

"Dear brothers and sisters, if another believer is overcome by some sin, you who are godly should gently and humbly help that person back onto the right path. And be careful not to fall into the same temptation yourself" (Galatians 6:1; see also Isaiah 61:1-3; Titus 3:3-7; 1 Peter 4:1-5).

USER'S GUIDE

THE HOLY BIBLE is a book about recovery. It records how the world began and how God created it to be good. Then it tells us about the beginning of sin—about the first time people decided to reject God's plan. And it spells out the fatal consequences that result from rejecting God's plan. But the Bible doesn't leave us in despair. It reveals a plan for recovery and the source of the power to accomplish it. It provides us with the only pathway to wholeness—God's program for reconciliation and healing.

Each feature in The Life Recovery Bible leads readers to the powerful resources for recovery found in the Holy Scriptures:

DEVOTIONAL READING PLANS

Each devotional is set near the Scripture it comments on and directs the reader to the next devotional in the reading chain. To get a bird's-eye view of each of these reading plans, turn to the indexes at the back of this Bible.

- The Twelve Step Devotional Reading Plan includes eighty-four Bible-based devotionals built around the Twelve Steps. Each of the Twelve Steps is supported by a video introduction featuring Stephen Arterburn and David Stoop. Find the videos at www.liferecoverybible.com.
To begin this reading plan, turn to page 25.
- The Recovery Principle Devotional Reading Plan is composed of fifty-six Bible-based devotionals shaped around principles important in the recovery process.
To begin this reading plan, turn to page 5.
- The Serenity Prayer Devotional Reading Plan is made up of twenty-nine Bible-based devotionals related to the Serenity Prayer.

RECOVERY PROFILES

In this feature sixty individuals and relationships are profiled, and important recovery lessons are drawn from their lives. For a quick view of the profiles included, see the Index to Recovery Profiles on page 1738.

INTRODUCTORY MATERIAL FOR BIBLE BOOKS

Each book of the Bible is preceded by a number of helpful features.

- Book Introductions present the content and themes from the standpoint of recovery.
- The Big Picture gives a panoramic view of the book in outline form.
- The Bottom Line provides vital historical information for the book.
- Recovery Themes present and discuss important themes for people in recovery.

RECOVERY COMMENTARY NOTES

The Bible text is supported by numerous Recovery Notes that pinpoint passages and thoughts important to recovery. The notes appear at the foot of each page and are indexed in the Life Recovery Topical Index beginning on page 1695.

Additional commentary material is provided in the Recovery Reflections that follow many of the Bible books. The notes are arranged topically. The topics discussed in this feature are indexed in the Index to Recovery Reflections on page 1743.

ARTICLES

This Bible includes a number of helpful articles at the front and back. Some of these offer help to individuals seeking recovery. Others are primarily for people needing guidance as they lead groups.

The book of Genesis is a book of beginnings. It records how the world began and how God created it to be good. It tells us about the first people and how God made them to be excellent. But then it tells us about the beginning of sin—about the first time people decided to reject the program God had laid out for them. It records the first days of shame and of covering up. It records the beginning of our separation from God, each other, and the world God gave us.

We will see how people with perfect health, living in a perfect environment, rebelled against God. And we will see the consequences of their rebellion. We are given intimate glimpses of individuals dominated by hatred, drunkenness, lust, unhealthy family relationships, greed, cheating, irresponsibility, dishonesty, jealousy, violence, and other problems.

But the book of Genesis doesn't leave us in despair. It tells us of yet another beginning. It records how God chose a man named Abraham to father a special nation. And through this nation would come the solution for our separation from God, each other, and the world God gave us. Genesis begins the story of how God began his work of healing broken humanity—a healing to be expressed in the laws he would give his people and culminating in the coming of Jesus, the promised Messiah.

The book of Genesis reminds us of where all our problems began. It spells out the fatal consequences of rejecting God's program. But it also begins the age-long story of God's amazing love for the human race. Through this book we will discover that the only pathway to spiritual wholeness is found by following God's redemptive plan.

THE BOTTOM LINE

PURPOSE: To tell us about the beginning of things, including human opportunities and difficulties, and to demonstrate that God's solutions are the only ones that work. AUTHOR: Moses. AUDIENCE: The people of Israel. DATE WRITTEN: Chapters 1–11 deal with the undatable past; the events of chapters 12–50 are to be dated between about 2000 and 1800 B.C. The book was probably written shortly after 1445 B.C. SETTING: Mesopotamia, then Canaan, finally Egypt. KEY VERSE: "And Abram believed the LORD, and the LORD counted him as righteous because of his faith" (15:6). KEY EVENTS: Creation, the Fall, the Flood, the Tower of Babel. KEY PEOPLE: Abraham, Isaac, Jacob, Joseph.

RECOVERY THEMES

A Good Creation: Everything about God's creation was described as being good except the fact that Adam was alone. In fact, Adam's isolation is the only thing in the first two chapters of Genesis that God considered to be a problem. When God created a partner for man, then God was pleased with everything in his creation. Because God was pleased with what he created, he stayed involved, even after Adam and Eve disobeyed him. In fact, ever since the Fall God has been seeking to make things right again. Our sinfulness always leads us away from God and distorts the way God created us to be. But recovery always involves growth toward God's original ideal for the human race. As we progress in recovery, we take part in God's re-creation of our fallen world.

A Ruined World: The disobedience of Adam and Eve affected all of God's creation. The idyllic world of the garden was gone forever, and life became a struggle. Our futile attempts to avoid the realities of a ruined world have led us into all kinds of destructive behaviors. Recovery begins when we squarely face the broken realities of our world—its daily struggles and hardships. Once we have done this, we have started down the road of recovery. We have entered the spiritual arena where battles are fought to regain what has been lost.

Promises of Healing: The book of Genesis presents us with a series of "new beginnings" that come out of the ruin of our sinfulness. In the original Fall, God promised hope and healing for us when he told the serpent that the offspring of the woman would crush the serpent's head. When people generally continued to disobey, God sent the Flood as judgment for their sinfulness. After the Flood, God again promised victory and confirmed that promise with a rainbow. Then the people rejected God again, building a great tower as a memorial of their pride. In response, God confused their languages, further fragmenting society. Then God chose a man named Abram and promised to bless all nations of the world through his offspring. Each time that human sin brought ruin, God promised victory and recovery in the face of it.

Hope for Reconciliation: As people began to experience the terrible consequences of their disobedience, God didn't leave them to figure out a plan for recovery all alone; nor did he leave a long list of principles or rules to follow that would repair their damaged relationships. Instead, God always worked with people on a very personal level in the recovery process. As we enter into the recovery process, we find it to be relational in nature. It requires us to seek reconciliation with people close to us, and this includes God. In Genesis, God modeled this pattern for us time and again. He chose certain individuals and worked patiently in their lives, reconciling them with himself and the people around them.

CHAPTER 1

The Account of Creation

In the beginning God created the heavens and the earth.* ²The earth was formless and empty, and darkness covered the deep waters. And the Spirit of God was hovering over the surface of the waters.

³Then God said, "Let there be light," and there was light. ⁴And God saw that the light was good. Then he separated the light from the darkness. ⁵God called the light "day" and the darkness "night."

And evening passed and morning came, marking the first day.

1:1 Or In the beginning when God created the heavens and the earth, . . . Or When God began to create the heavens and the earth, . . .

⁶Then God said, "Let there be a space between the waters, to separate the waters of the heavens from the waters of the earth." ⁷And that is what happened. God made this space to separate the waters of the earth from the waters of the heavens.

⁸God called the space "sky."

And evening passed and morning came, marking the second day.

⁹Then God said, "Let the waters beneath the sky flow together into one place, so dry ground may appear." And that is what happened. ¹⁰God called the dry ground "land" and the waters "seas." And

1:4 God was pleased with his creation. He declared that it was good. God stopped now and then to approve of what he had designed and created (1:4-5, 9-10, 11-12, 18, 21-22, 25, 31). Many of our problems and dependencies result from the misuse of God's good creation. Recovery sometimes involves discovering the good things that we have misused and learning how to enjoy them in the way God intended.

1:24 The phrase "And that is what happened" (also in 1:9-12, 14-15) shows us that God's creative activity was done in complete conformity to the specifications he had originally intended. God accomplishes his will with certainty and precision. It should reassure us to know that God's good desires for us can be accomplished with the same certainty.

SELF-PERCEPTION

READ GENESIS 1:26-31

If we have lived in bondage to our compulsive behaviors for a while, we probably see more bad than good inside us. Many of us tend to see life in terms of all or nothing. As a result, we probably think we are all bad. But in recovery, we need a balanced understanding of ourselves. We need to see that along with our bad points we have also been gifted with strengths. It's not an either/or proposition. A balanced view of ourselves will help us better understand our shortcomings while also giving us greater hope in our potential.

At the end of the fifth day of creation God had made everything except the first people. The Bible tells us that when he looked at what he had made so far, "God saw that it was good." Then God created the first man and woman. "So God created human beings in his own image. In the image of God he created them; . . . Then God blessed them and said, 'Be fruitful and multiply. Fill the earth and govern it. Reign over the fish in the sea, the birds in the sky, and all the animals that scurry along the ground.' . . . Then God looked over all he had made, and he saw that it was very good!" (Genesis 1:25, 27-31).

God distinguished between the human race and the rest of creation. He made us in his very image, with capacities far beyond those of mere animals. God was (and is) excited about us! He gave us abilities and responsibilities to reflect his own nature in all of creation. When he created us, he was proud of what he had made!

Although we have a sinful nature that came as a result of the Fall, we also must remember that we were created in the likeness of God. There is excellence and dignity inherent in being human that should cause us to ponder our potential for good as well as for bad. Turn to page 31, Genesis 22.

God saw that it was good.¹¹ Then God said, "Let the land sprout with vegetation—every sort of seed-bearing plant, and trees that grow seed-bearing fruit. These seeds will then produce the kinds of plants and trees from which they came." And that is what happened.

¹²The land produced vegetation—all sorts of seed-bearing plants, and trees with seed-bearing fruit. Their seeds produced plants and trees of the same kind. And God saw that it was good.

¹³And evening passed and morning came, marking the third day.

¹⁴Then God said, "Let lights appear in the sky to separate the day from the night. Let them be signs to mark the seasons, days, and years. ¹⁵Let these lights in the sky shine down on the earth." And that is what happened. ¹⁶God made two great lights—the larger one to govern the day, and the smaller one to govern the night. He also made the stars. ¹⁷God set these lights in the sky to light the earth, ¹⁸to govern the day and night, and to separate the light from the darkness. And God saw that it was good.

¹⁹And evening passed and morning came, marking the fourth day.

²⁰Then God said, "Let the waters swarm with fish and other life. Let the skies be filled with birds of every kind." ²¹So God created great sea creatures and every living thing that scurries and swarms in the water, and every sort of bird—each producing offspring of the same kind. And God saw that it was good. ²²Then God blessed them, saying, "Be fruitful and multiply. Let the fish fill the seas, and let the birds multiply on the earth."

²³And evening passed and morning came, marking the fifth day.

²⁴Then God said, "Let the earth produce every sort of animal, each producing offspring of the same kind—livestock, small animals that scurry along the ground, and wild animals." And that is what happened. ²⁵God made all sorts of wild animals, livestock, and small animals, each able to produce offspring of the same kind. And God saw that it was good.

²⁶Then God said, "Let us make human beings* in our image, to be like us. They will reign over the fish in the sea, the birds in the sky, the livestock, all the wild animals on the earth,* and the small animals that scurry along the ground.”

1:26a Or man; Hebrew reads adam.

²⁷ So God created human beings* in his own image.

In the image of God he created them; male and female he created them.

²⁸ Then God blessed them and said, “Be fruitful and multiply. Fill the earth and govern it. Reign over the fish in the sea, the birds in the sky, and all the animals that scurry along the ground.”

²⁹ Then God said, “Look! I have given you every seed-bearing plant throughout the earth and all the fruit trees for your food. ³⁰ And I have given every green plant as food for all the wild animals, the birds in the sky, and the small animals that scurry along the ground—everything that has life.” And that is what happened.

³¹ Then God looked over all he had made, and he saw that it was very good!

And evening passed and morning came, marking the sixth day.

CHAPTER 2

So the creation of the heavens and the earth and everything in them was completed.

² On the seventh day God had finished his work of creation, so he rested* from all his work. ³ And God blessed the seventh day and declared it holy, because it was the day when he rested from all his work of creation.

⁴ This is the account of the creation of the heavens and the earth.

The Man and Woman in Eden

When the LORD God made the earth and the heavens, ⁵ neither wild plants nor grains were growing on the earth. For the LORD God had not yet sent rain to water the earth, and there were no people to cultivate the soil. ⁶ Instead, springs* came up from the ground and watered all the land. ⁷ Then the LORD God formed the man from the dust of the ground. He breathed the breath of life into the man's nostrils, and the man became a living person.

1:26b As in Syriac version; Hebrew reads all the earth. 1:27 Or the man; Hebrew reads ha-adam. 2:2 Or ceased; also in 2:3. 2:6 Or mist. 2:19 Or Adam, and so throughout the chapter.

⁸ Then the LORD God planted a garden in Eden in the east, and there he placed the man he had made. ⁹ The LORD God made all sorts of trees grow up from the ground—trees that were beautiful and that produced delicious fruit. In the middle of the garden he placed the tree of life and the tree of the knowledge of good and evil.

¹⁰ A river flowed from the land of Eden, watering the garden and then dividing into four branches. ¹¹ The first branch, called the Pishon, flowed around the entire land of Havilah, where gold is found. ¹² The gold of that land is exceptionally pure; aromatic resin and onyx stone are also found there. ¹³ The second branch, called the Gihon, flowed around the entire land of Cush. ¹⁴ The third branch, called the Tigris, flowed east of the land of Asshur. The fourth branch is called the Euphrates.

¹⁵ The LORD God placed the man in the Garden of Eden to tend and watch over it. ¹⁶ But the LORD God warned him, “You may freely eat the fruit of every tree in the garden—¹⁷ except the tree of the knowledge of good and evil. If you eat its fruit, you are sure to die.”

¹⁸ Then the LORD God said, “It is not good for the man to be alone. I will make a helper who is just right for him.” ¹⁹ So the LORD God formed from the ground all the wild animals and all the birds of the sky. He brought them to the man* to see what he would call them, and the man chose a name for each one. ²⁰ He gave names to all the livestock, all the birds

2:2-3 This is the first mention of Sabbath rest—one day of rest in seven. By his example God encourages us to designate a portion of our lives to rest and spiritual rejuvenation. Without proper rest, it is very difficult to deal with the other matters in our lives, especially our progress in recovery.

2:8-14 God provided a perfect environment for the first people. We often blame our outward circumstances for our difficulties. It is important to note here that in spite of their ideal surroundings, our first parents fell—they failed. Although the environments we live in can certainly add to our problems, they are never entirely at fault. We need to take responsibility for our own mistakes and failures.

3:1-5 The account here pictures for us the process of temptation. The serpent offered something that had been forbidden by God as a very attractive option. The serpent also caused Eve to doubt God and the truth of his word. During the debate, Eve offered some halfhearted opposition, but her growing doubt in God weakened her resolve. In the end she gave in. Satan strengthened his temptation by weakening Eve's faith in God. Staying close to God and maintaining our faith in him will weaken the power of temptation in our lives.

ADAM & EVE

It was an ideal situation: a man and his wife living harmoniously together in a lush, beautiful garden that God had created for their pleasure. They each enjoyed a perfect relationship with God and with each other. But when Adam and Eve gave in to temptation, they overstepped their God-given boundaries and plunged the human race into sin. Harmony was broken. Shame and guilt penetrated their lives and created an invisible barrier between them and God. The consequences of their disobedience and lack of self-control are with us to this day.

Adam and Eve knew that they had gone against God's plan—a plan that was created with their best interests in mind. And the consequences of their sin followed immediately. Right away they became afraid of the God who loved them so much, and they hid from his presence. They also became ashamed of their nakedness and set out to cover themselves. The relationship between Adam and Eve began to show cracks and strains. Accusations were made. Blame was shifted. Neither of them wanted to be held accountable. Both of them refused to admit that they were wrong. Needless to say, their relationship was damaged. Their sin had separated them from each other and from God.

But the story doesn't end there. Adam and Eve stayed together in spite of the shame and guilt they felt. Their lives were marred by sin and scarred by wounds inflicted on one another. However, they faced the reality that life had to go on and began to build a new life together. And by love, commitment, and the grace of God, they persevered through life's trials.

The story of Adam and Eve is found in the opening chapters of Genesis. Adam and/or Eve are also mentioned in 1 Chronicles 1:1; Romans 5:12-19; 1 Corinthians 15:22, 45-49; 2 Corinthians 11:3; and 1 Timothy 2:13-15.

STRENGTHS AND ACCOMPLISHMENTS:

- They were the parents of the entire human race.
- They were committed to each other through the trials they faced.
- Their story provides us with the first illustration of God's grace.

WEAKNESSES AND MISTAKES:

- They were disobedient to the plan that God had revealed to them.
- They were not willing to take responsibility for their sin.
- They made excuses rather than admit the truth.
- Their actions brought sin into the world.

LESSONS FROM THEIR LIVES:

- A good marriage requires love and commitment even through tough times.
- Relationships that accept God's grace and forgiveness persevere through life's difficulties.
- Complacency is a breeding ground for temptation—be on guard against Satan's schemes.
- The mistakes of parents are often passed on to their descendants.

KEY VERSES:

"Then God said, 'Let us make human beings in our image, to be like us. They will reign over the fish in the sea, the birds in the sky, the livestock, all the wild animals on the earth, and the small animals that scurry along the ground.' So God created human beings in his own image. In the image of God he created them; male and female he created them" (Genesis 1:26-27).

of the sky, and all the wild animals. But still there was no helper just right for him.

²¹So the LORD God caused the man to fall into a deep sleep. While the man slept, the LORD God took out one of the man's ribs* and closed up the opening. ²²Then the LORD God made a woman from the rib, and he brought her to the man.

²³"At last!" the man exclaimed.

"This one is bone from my bone,
and flesh from my flesh!
She will be called 'woman,' because she was taken from 'man.'"

2:21 Or took a part of the man's side.

²⁴This explains why a man leaves his father and mother and is joined to his wife, and the two are united into one.

²⁵Now the man and his wife were both naked, but they felt no shame.

CHAPTER 3 The Man and Woman Sin

The serpent was the shrewdest of all the wild animals the LORD God had made. One day he asked the woman, "Did God really say you must not eat the fruit from any of the trees in the garden?"

²"Of course we may eat fruit from the trees in the garden,” the woman replied. ³“It’s only the fruit from the tree in the middle of the garden that we are not allowed to eat. God said, ‘You must not eat it or even touch it; if you do, you will die.’”

⁴“You won’t die!” the serpent replied to the woman. ⁵“God knows that your eyes will be opened as soon as you eat it, and you will be like God, knowing both good and evil.”

⁶The woman was convinced. She saw that the tree was beautiful and its fruit looked delicious, and she wanted the wisdom it would give her. So she took some of the fruit and ate it. Then she gave some to her husband, who was with her, and he ate it, too. ⁷At that moment their eyes were opened, and they suddenly felt shame at their nakedness. So they sewed fig leaves together to cover themselves.

⁸When the cool evening breezes were blowing, the man* and his wife heard the LORD God walking about in the garden. So they hid from the LORD God among the trees. ⁹Then the LORD God called to the man, “Where are you?”

¹⁰He replied, “I heard you walking in the garden, so I hid. I was afraid because I was naked.”

¹¹“Who told you that you were naked?” the LORD God asked. “Have you eaten from the tree whose fruit I commanded you not to eat?”

¹²The man replied, “It was the woman you gave me who gave me the fruit, and I ate it.”

¹³Then the LORD God asked the woman, “What have you done?”

“The serpent deceived me,” she replied. “That’s why I ate it.”

¹⁴Then the LORD God said to the serpent,

3:8 Or Adam, and so throughout the chapter. 3:15 Or bruise; also in 3:15b. 3:16 Or And though you will have desire for your husband, / he will rule over you.

“Because you have done this, you are cursed more than all animals, domestic and wild.

You will crawl on your belly, groveling in the dust as long as you live.

¹⁵ And I will cause hostility between you and the woman, and between your offspring and her offspring.

He will strike* your head, and you will strike his heel.”

¹⁶Then he said to the woman,

“I will sharpen the pain of your pregnancy, and in pain you will give birth. And you will desire to control your husband, but he will rule over you.*”

¹⁷And to the man he said,

“Since you listened to your wife and ate from the tree whose fruit I commanded you not to eat, the ground is cursed because of you.

All your life you will struggle to scratch a living from it.

¹⁸ It will grow thorns and thistles for you, though you will eat of its grains.

¹⁹ By the sweat of your brow will you have food to eat

3:12-13 When Adam was questioned, notice that he blamed the woman for his problem. He even backhandedly blamed God by reminding God that he was the one who had given him the woman in the first place. Then Eve blamed the serpent for the problem. Passing the buck is a standard human response to guilt. But true recovery requires that we take a thorough inventory of our lives, accepting responsibility for everything we have done or failed to do.

3:21 The very first death occurred on the same day as Adam’s and Eve’s sin; it was the death of an animal to provide a covering for their nakedness. God’s immediate provision for sin was the slaying of an innocent substitute to provide skins to clothe the guilty couple. The clothing they wore must have served as a reminder—engraving the sight of the dying animal in their minds—a picture of the terrible consequences of their sin. As we recognize the suffering we may have caused others, we also are reminded of the consequences of rejecting God’s plan for our lives.

4:6-7 When God rejected Cain’s offering, Cain reacted with dejection and anger. God did not reject Cain for his strong feelings; he offered him an opportunity for a new start. How sad that Cain refused this second chance and instead went out to kill his brother. We need to be careful when we face obstacles to the recovery process. We need to carefully weigh the strong feelings we encounter within ourselves before acting on them. If we don’t, we may be passing up an excellent opportunity for a fresh start. God is not put off by our strong feelings. Recovery is based on God’s grace, which always offers us an opportunity to begin again.

until you return to the ground from which you were made. For you were made from dust, and to dust you will return.”

Paradise Lost: God’s Judgment

²⁰Then the man—Adam—named his wife Eve, because she would be the mother of all who live.* ²¹And the LORD God made clothing from animal skins for Adam and his wife.

²²Then the LORD God said, “Look, the human beings* have become like us, knowing both good and evil. What if they reach out, take fruit from the tree of life, and eat it? Then they will live forever!” ²³So the LORD God banished them from the Garden of Eden, and he sent Adam out to cultivate the ground from which he had been made.

²⁴After sending them out, the LORD God stationed mighty cherubim to the east of the Garden of Eden. And he placed a flaming sword that flashed back and forth to guard the way to the tree of life.

CHAPTER 4

Cain and Abel

Now Adam* had sexual relations with his wife, Eve, and she became pregnant. When she gave birth to Cain, she said, “With the LORD’s help, I have produced* a man!” ²Later she gave birth to his brother and named him Abel.

When they grew up, Abel became a shepherd, while Cain cultivated the ground.

³When it was time for the harvest, Cain presented some of his crops as a gift to the LORD.

⁴Abel also brought a gift—the best portions of the firstborn lambs from his flock. The LORD accepted Abel and his gift, ⁵but he did not accept Cain and his gift. This made Cain very angry, and he looked dejected.

⁶“Why are you so angry?” the LORD asked Cain. “Why do you look so dejected? ⁷You will be accepted if you do what is right. But if you refuse to do what is right, then watch out! Sin is crouching at the door, eager to control you. But you must subdue it and be its master.”

⁸One day Cain suggested to his brother, “Let’s go out into the fields.”* And while they were in the field, Cain attacked his brother, Abel, and killed him.

3:20 Eve sounds like a Hebrew term that means “to give life.” 3:22 Or the man; Hebrew reads ha-adam. 4:1a Or the man; also in 4:25. 4:1b Or I have acquired. Cain sounds like a Hebrew term that can mean “produce” or “acquire.” 4:8 As in Samaritan Pentateuch, Greek and Syriac versions, and Latin Vulgate; Masoretic Text lacks “Let’s go out into the fields.”

Coming Out of Hiding

BIBLE READING: Genesis 3:6-13

We made a searching and fearless moral inventory of ourselves.

Many of us have spent our life in a state of hiding, ashamed of who we are inside. We may hide by living a double life, by using drugs or giving in to other additions to make us feel like someone else, or by self-righteously setting ourselves above others. Step Four involves uncovering the things we have been hiding, even from ourselves.

After Adam and Eve disobeyed God, “they suddenly felt shame at their nakedness. So they sewed fig leaves together to cover themselves. . . . Then the LORD God called to the man, ‘Where are you?’ He replied, ‘I heard you walking in the garden, so I hid. I was afraid because I was naked’” (Genesis 3:7-10). Human beings have been covering up and hiding ever since!

Jesus consistently confronted the religious leaders about their hypocrisy. The word hypocrite describes a person who pretends to have virtues or qualities that he really doesn’t have. One time Jesus said to these leaders, “Hypocrites! For you are so careful to clean the outside of the cup and the dish, but inside you are filthy—full of greed and self-indulgence! . . . First wash the inside of the cup and the dish, and then the outside will become clean, too” (Matthew 23:25-26).

When the real person inside us comes out of hiding, we will have to deal with some dirt! Making this inventory is a good way to “wash the inside”; some of that washing may involve bathing our life with tears. It is only by uncovering the hidden parts of ourselves that we will be able to change the outer person, including our addictive/compulsive behaviors. Turn to page 611, Nehemiah 8.

⁹Afterward the LORD asked Cain, “Where is your brother? Where is Abel?”

“I don’t know,” Cain responded. “Am I my brother’s guardian?”

¹⁰But the LORD said, “What have you done? Listen! Your brother’s blood cries out to me from the ground! ¹¹Now you are cursed and banished from the ground, which has swallowed your brother’s blood. ¹²No longer will the ground yield good crops for you, no matter how hard you work! From now on you will be a homeless wanderer on the earth.”

¹³Cain replied to the LORD, “My punishment* is too great for me to bear! ¹⁴You have banished me from the land and from your presence; you have made me a homeless wanderer. Anyone who finds me will kill me!”

¹⁵The LORD replied, “No, for I will give a sevenfold punishment to anyone who kills you.” Then the LORD put a mark on Cain to warn anyone who might try to kill him. ¹⁶So Cain left the LORD’s presence and settled in the land of Nod,* east of Eden.

The Descendants of Cain

¹⁷Cain had sexual relations with his wife, and she became pregnant and gave birth to Enoch. Then Cain founded a city, which he named Enoch, after his son. ¹⁸Enoch had a son named Irad. Irad became the father of* Mehujael. Mehujael became the father of Methushael. Methushael became the father of Lamech.

¹⁹Lamech married two women. The first was named Adah, and the second was Zillah.

²⁰Adah gave birth to Jabal, who was the first of those who raise livestock and live in tents.

²¹His brother’s name was Jubal, the first of all who play the harp and flute. ²²Lamech’s other wife, Zillah, gave birth to a son named Tubal-cain. He became an expert in forging tools of bronze and iron. Tubal-cain had a sister named Naamah. ²³One day Lamech said to his wives, “Adah and Zillah, hear my voice; listen to me, you wives of Lamech.

I have killed a man who attacked me, a young man who wounded me.

²⁴If someone who kills Cain is punished seven times, then the one who kills me will be punished seventy-seven times!”

The Birth of Seth

²⁵Adam had sexual relations with his wife again, and she gave birth to another son. She named him Seth,* for she said, “God has granted me another son in place of Abel, whom Cain killed.” ²⁶When Seth grew up, he had a son and named him Enosh. At that time people first began to worship the LORD by name.

CHAPTER 5

The Descendants of Adam

This is the written account of the descendants of Adam. When God created human beings,* he made them to be like himself. ²He created them male and female, and he blessed them and called them “human.”

³When Adam was 130 years old, he became the father of a son who was just like him—in his very image. He named his son Seth.

⁴After the birth of Seth, Adam lived another 800 years, and he had other sons and daughters. ⁵Adam lived 930 years, and then he died.

⁶When Seth was 105 years old, he became the father of* Enosh. ⁷After the birth of* Enosh, Seth lived another 807 years, and he had other sons and daughters. ⁸Seth lived 912 years, and then he died.

4:13 Or My sin. 4:16 Nod means “wandering.” 4:18 Or the ancestor of, and so throughout the verse. 4:25 Seth probably means “granted”; the name may also mean “appointed.” 5:1 Or man; Hebrew reads adam; similarly in 5:2. 5:6 Or the ancestor of; also in 5:9, 12, 15, 18, 21, 25. 5:7 Or the birth of this ancestor of; also in 5:10, 13, 16, 19, 22, 26.

4:15 The “mark on Cain” was not, as some have taught, a badge of guilt. It was a sign that God gave to Cain for his protection. Even after Cain’s great failure, God desired to protect him from harm. Many of us look back and marvel at how God protected us before we began the recovery process. He wants us to be restored and often protects us in the midst of evil so that we are not destroyed. Our gracious God desires only our healing and recovery, even after our greatest failures.

5:1-32 This chapter has often been called the obituary column. Its recurring refrain is “He died . . . he died . . . he died.” Although physical death did not come to Adam and Eve on the day they sinned, it did eventually come. They had reestablished their relationship with God, but the physical consequences of their sin could not be avoided forever. We may hope that after reestablishing our relationship with God, our troubles will be over. But a relationship with God rarely frees us from the consequences of past sins. The consequences usually catch up with us sooner or later. But if we suffer for past mistakes, we can know that God will be with us each step of the way.

CAIN & ABEL

How often parents of two children have been heard to exclaim, “There have never been two children who were more different!” Adam and Eve could well have been the originators of that comment. Cain apparently felt himself to be in direct competition with Abel. This led to a rivalry that was never resolved, resulting in a major tragedy.

Cain became a farmer and Abel a shepherd. It was their offerings, however, not their occupations, that revealed the true nature of their character. Abel did things God’s way, following his requirements. He is called “righteous” in Matthew 23:35, and Hebrews 11:4 says his offering was made by faith. Cain, on the other hand, did things his own way. Jude suggests that his “way” was that of rebellion (Jude 1:11). Cain brought an offering of produce from his gardens, while Abel brought the fatty cuts of meat from his best lambs.

Abel’s altar must have been ugly, assaulting every sense with the bloody carcasses lying across it. But the blood was a part of God’s plan according to Hebrews 12:24. Cain’s offering had the potential of being beautiful. Picture fresh produce, just out of the garden—fruits, vegetables, flowers, and grain—probably lovingly and artistically arranged. Perhaps Cain wanted to be accepted by God on the basis of his own merits. He may not have been willing to have a relationship with God based on a bloody sacrifice. When God accepted Abel’s offering and rejected Cain’s, Cain became angry. But God did not reject him for his anger. Even at that point, God reasoned with him. He offered Cain another opportunity to change his mind and accept divine grace, but still Cain refused. Jealous of Abel, whose offering had been accepted, and raging because God had rejected his own, Cain murdered his brother.

Cain tried to hide his terrible deed, but God was not fooled. God confronted Cain with the murder and assigned the consequence of lifelong exile. Cain spent the rest of his life as an alien, wandering in lands far from his family. But God protected Cain, even when he was in exile; God placed his mark upon Cain to keep him from being killed.

STRENGTHS AND ACCOMPLISHMENTS:

- Abel was obedient to God.
- Abel is the first hero mentioned in the “Gallery of Faith” in Hebrews 11.
- Both sons developed skills and worked hard in the occupations they chose.

WEAKNESSES AND MISTAKES:

- Cain insisted on doing things his own way.
- When rejected, Cain reacted with rage.
- Cain allowed his rage to lead him to commit the first murder.

LESSONS FROM THEIR LIVES:

- Our righteousness is based on our willingness to follow God’s program by faith.
- Feeling angry does not separate us from God unless we express it in destructive ways.
- Though we may try to hide our sins for a time, God’s justice will prevail.

KEY VERSE:

“It was by faith that Abel brought a more acceptable offering to God than Cain did. Abel’s offering gave evidence that he was a righteous man, and God showed his approval of his gifts. Although Abel is long dead, he still speaks to us by his example of faith” (Hebrews 11:4).

The account of Cain and Abel is given in Genesis 4. Both are also mentioned in Hebrews 11:4 and 1 John 3:12. Cain alone is referred to in Jude 1:11; Abel is spoken of in Matthew 23:35; Luke 11:51; and Hebrews 12:24.

⁹When Enosh was 90 years old, he became the father of Kenan. ¹⁰After the birth of Kenan, Enosh lived another 815 years, and he had other sons and daughters.

¹¹Enosh lived 905 years, and then he died.

¹²When Kenan was 70 years old, he became the father of Mahalalel. ¹³After the birth of Mahalalel, Kenan lived another 840 years, and he had other sons and daughters.

¹⁴Kenan lived 910 years, and then he died.

¹⁵When Mahalalel was 65 years old, he became the father of Jared. ¹⁶After the birth of Jared, Mahalalel lived another 830 years, and he had other sons and daughters. ¹⁷Mahalalel lived 895 years, and then he died.

¹⁸When Jared was 162 years old, he became the father of Enoch. ¹⁹After the birth of Enoch, Jared lived another 800 years, and he had other sons and daughters. ²⁰Jared lived 962 years, and then he died.

²¹When Enoch was 65 years old, he became the father of Methuselah. ²²After the birth of Methuselah, Enoch lived in close fellowship with God for another 300 years, and he had other sons and daughters. ²³Enoch lived 365 years, ²⁴walking in close fellowship with God. Then one day he disappeared, because God took him.

²⁵When Methuselah was 187 years old, he became the father of Lamech. ²⁶After the birth of Lamech, Methuselah lived another 782 years, and he had other sons and daughters. ²⁷Methuselah lived 969 years, and then he died.

²⁸When Lamech was 182 years old, he became the father of a son. ²⁹Lamech named his son Noah, for he said, "May he bring us relief* from our work and the painful labor of farming this ground that the LORD has cursed." ³⁰After the birth of Noah, Lamech lived another 595 years, and he had other sons and daughters.

³¹Lamech lived 777 years, and then he died.

³²After Noah was 500 years old, he became the father of Shem, Ham, and Japheth.

CHAPTER 6

A World Gone Wrong

Then the people began to multiply on the earth, and daughters were born to them.

²The sons of God saw the beautiful women* and took any they wanted as their wives.

³Then the LORD said, "My Spirit will not put up with* humans for such a long time, for they are only mortal flesh. In the future,

5:29 Noah sounds like a Hebrew term that can mean "relief" or "comfort." 6:2 Hebrew daughters of men; also in 6:4. 6:3 Greek version reads will not remain in. 6:14a Traditionally rendered an ark. 6:14b Or gopher wood.

their normal lifespan will be no more than 120 years."

⁴In those days, and for some time after, giant Nephilites lived on the earth, for whenever the sons of God had intercourse with women, they gave birth to children who became the heroes and famous warriors of ancient times.

⁵The LORD observed the extent of human wickedness on the earth, and he saw that everything they thought or imagined was consistently and totally evil. ⁶So the LORD was sorry he had ever made them and put them on the earth. It broke his heart. ⁷And the LORD said, "I will wipe this human race I have created from the face of the earth. Yes, and I will destroy every living thing—all the people, the large animals, the small animals that scurry along the ground, and even the birds of the sky. I am sorry I ever made them." ⁸But Noah found favor with the LORD.

The Story of Noah

⁹This is the account of Noah and his family. Noah was a righteous man, the only blameless person living on earth at the time, and he walked in close fellowship with God. ¹⁰Noah was the father of three sons: Shem, Ham, and Japheth.

¹¹Now God saw that the earth had become corrupt and was filled with violence. ¹²God observed all this corruption in the world, for everyone on earth was corrupt. ¹³So God said to Noah, "I have decided to destroy all living creatures, for they have filled the earth with violence. Yes, I will wipe them all out along with the earth!

¹⁴"Build a large boat* from cypress wood* and waterproof it with tar, inside and out.

5:21-24 Little is said about the spiritual state of these patriarchs of the human race. But the account of Enoch's life provides us with a bright spot in this otherwise dismal chapter. Enoch was known for "walking in close fellowship with God." His example should give us hope. Enoch wasn't trapped by the mistakes or apathy of his peers and ancestors. Instead, he made a new start. And he did it by constantly walking with God.

6:1-12 Some people insist that the human race is developing and becoming better and better. But when we compare the condition of the world in these verses to the way things were back in the Garden of Eden, it is obvious that the trend has gone in the opposite direction. Without God's help, we only get worse. It is only by following God's program and receiving his grace that we can hope to escape the natural slide toward pain and destruction.

6:8-10 God did not destroy the righteous with the wicked. These verses are another statement of God's grace. God extended grace to Noah and his family. Noah, like Enoch, lived his life in constant fellowship with God. He broke the mold set by his ancestors and neighbors by drawing close to God. As a result, Noah lived through the Flood and became the second father of the human race.

Then construct decks and stalls throughout its interior. ¹⁵Make the boat 450 feet long, 75 feet wide, and 45 feet high.* ¹⁶Leave an 18-inch opening* below the roof all the way around the boat. Put the door on the side, and build three decks inside the boat—lower, middle, and upper.

¹⁷“Look! I am about to cover the earth with a flood that will destroy every living thing that breathes. Everything on earth will die. ¹⁸But I will confirm my covenant with you. So enter the boat—you and your wife and your sons and their wives. ¹⁹Bring a pair of every kind of animal—a male and a female—into the boat with you to keep them alive during the flood. ²⁰Pairs of every kind of bird, and every kind of animal, and every kind of small animal that scurries along the ground, will come to you to be kept alive. ²¹And be sure to take on board enough food for your family and for all the animals.”

²²So Noah did everything exactly as God had commanded him.

CHAPTER 7

The Flood Covers the Earth

When everything was ready, the LORD said to Noah, “Go into the boat with all your family, for among all the people of the earth, I can see that you alone are righteous. ²Take with you seven pairs—male and female—of each animal I have approved for eating and for sacrifice,* and take one pair of each of the others. ³Also take seven pairs of every kind of bird. There must be a male and a female in each pair to ensure that all life will survive on the earth after the flood. ⁴Seven days from now I will make the rains pour down on the earth. And it will rain for forty days and forty nights, until I have wiped from the earth all the living things I have created.”

⁵So Noah did everything as the LORD commanded him.

⁶Noah was 600 years old when the flood covered the earth. ⁷He went on board the boat to escape the flood—he and his wife and his sons and their wives. ⁸With them were all the various kinds of animals—those approved for eating and for sacrifice and those that were not—along with all the birds and the small animals that scurry along the ground. ⁹They entered the boat in pairs, male and female, just as God had commanded Noah. ¹⁰After seven days, the waters of the flood came and covered the earth.

¹¹When Noah was 600 years old, on the seventeenth day of the second month, all the underground waters erupted from the earth, and the rain fell in mighty torrents from the sky. ¹²The rain continued to fall for forty days and forty nights.

¹³That very day Noah had gone into the boat with his wife and his sons—Shem, Ham, and Japheth—and their wives. ¹⁴With them in the boat were pairs of every kind of animal—domestic and wild, large and small—along with birds of every kind. ¹⁵Two by two they came into the boat, representing every living thing that breathes. ¹⁶A male and female of each kind entered, just as God had commanded Noah. Then the LORD closed the door behind them.

¹⁷For forty days the floodwaters grew deeper, covering the ground and lifting the boat high above the earth. ¹⁸As the waters rose higher and higher above the ground, the boat floated safely on the surface. ¹⁹Finally, the water covered even the highest mountains on the earth, ²⁰rising more than twenty-two feet* above the highest peaks. ²¹All the living things on earth died—birds, domestic animals, wild animals, small animals that scurry along the ground, and all the people. ²²Everything that breathed and lived on dry land died. ²³God wiped out every living thing on the earth—people, livestock, small animals that scurry along the ground, and the birds of the sky. All were destroyed. The only people who survived were Noah and those with him in the boat. ²⁴And the floodwaters covered the earth for 150 days.

6:15 Hebrew 300 cubits [138 meters] long, 50 cubits [23 meters] wide, and 30 cubits [13.8 meters] high. 6:16 Hebrew an opening of 1 cubit [46 centimeters]. 7:2 Hebrew of each clean animal; similarly in 7:8. 7:20 Hebrew 15 cubits [6.9 meters].

6:22 One has to wonder whether God’s instructions made any sense to Noah. God told him to build a gigantic boat far from the nearest body of navigable water. But here we see that Noah was obedient even though God’s instructions were hard to understand. This is one of the secrets of success in any recovery program. We may not understand how everything works, but we must do what God tells us is necessary for a successful recovery. When we step out in faith, as Noah did, God will give us the success we seek.

THE SERENITY PRAYER

*God, grant me the serenity to accept the things I cannot change,
the courage to change the things I can,
and the wisdom to know the difference.*

Living one day at a time, enjoying one moment at a time, accepting hardship as the pathway to peace.

*Taking, as Christ did, this sinful world as it is,
not as I would have it.*

*Trusting that He will make all things right
if I surrender to His will.*

*That I may be reasonably happy in this life
and supremely happy with Him forever in the next.*

Amen

THE TWELVE LAWS OF LIFE RECOVERY

These laws highlight irrefutable truths that you will discover in yourself as you experience recovery while following the Twelve Steps. They provide evidence of the progress you have made and highlight places where growth is still needed. As you experience these laws, you will find—perhaps to your surprise—that the laws of life recovery often give back what they initially seemed to take away.

1. Powerlessness will result in STRENGTH.

We struggle with the feeling of powerlessness because it feels so much like we are helpless. But God often works healing in our lives through what to us is weakness. It is paradoxical that as we experience recovery in our lives, we will find there is great strength in recognizing our powerlessness.

“This foolish plan of God is wiser than the wisest of human plans, and God’s weakness is stronger than the greatest of human strength.” (1 Corinthians 1:25, page 1457)

2. Humility will result in HONOR.

In our journey of life recovery, it is easy to take pride in the positive changes we are making in our lives. But in God’s plan, honor is not something we should seek. It is something we receive as we learn to live in humility. Humility is the path to being honored by God and by others.

“Humble yourselves before the Lord, and he will lift you up in honor.” (James 4:10, page 1605)

3. Connection will result in LOVE.

We all long to be loved, but we overlook the fact that being loved always takes place in an emotionally connected relationship. Prior to our recovery, we lived in emotional isolation from others. But God designed us for connection—for relationship. That’s the only context in which we can experience true love.

“Let us continue to love one another, for love comes from God. Anyone who loves is a child of God and knows God. But anyone who does not love does not know God, for God is love. . . . Dear friends, since God loved us that much, we surely ought to love each other. No one has ever seen God. But if we love each other, God lives in us, and his love is brought to full expression in us.” (1 John 4:7-8, 11-12, page 1632)

4. Willingness will result in GROWTH.

There is the childlike part within all of us that wants to say, “I can do it on my own,” and “I can do it my way.” But true recovery in our lives begins when we are willing to do it God’s way. That’s not easy, but without a willingness to be open to God’s plan, we will limit our growth. It all begins with a willing and open heart.

“Work willingly at whatever you do, as though you were working for the Lord rather than for people.” (Colossians 3:23, page 1535)

5. Sacrifice will result in FULFILLMENT.

Before we started on our recovery journey, it was easy to think and act as if fulfillment came from getting, or from what we owned. But again, God’s ways are mysterious and not our ways. We learn in our recovery that sacrifice—doing good and sharing with others, not getting—is the true path to fulfillment.

“And don’t forget to do good and to share with those in need. These are the sacrifices that please God.” (Hebrews 13:16, page 1595)

6. Faith will result in HOPE.

In God’s plan for our recovery, problems and trials are a part of the path that leads to a hope that will not disappoint us. It is all in how we handle our problems and trials. When we endure the hard stuff, we build strength of character, which then builds our faith. It is that faith which leads to a hope built on knowing we are loved by God.

“We can rejoice, too, when we run into problems and trials, for we know that they help us develop endurance. And endurance develops strength of character, and character strengthens our confident hope of salvation. And this hope will not lead to disappointment. For we know how dearly God loves us, because he has given us the Holy Spirit to fill our hearts with his love.” (Romans 5:3-5, page 1437)

7. Surrender will result in VICTORY.

James describes surrendering as being “willing to yield to others.” Here willingness is coupled with surrendering. When we truly surrender ourselves, we are saying to God, “Your will, not mine.” And a truly surrendered life is a life lived out as a celebration of our victory.

“But the wisdom from above is first of all pure. It is also peace loving, gentle at all times, and willing to yield to others. It is full of mercy and the fruit of good deeds. It shows no favoritism and is always sincere.” (James 3:17, page 1605)

8. Service will result in REWARD.

Our acts of service are not to be done in order to gain a reward. They are done out of obedience to what we are learning as we are equipped to do the work of ministry. We are God’s hands, feet, and mouth. As we are faithful in our service, the reward is the peace and satisfaction that comes as the result of our obedience.

“Their responsibility is to equip God’s people to do his work and build up the church, the body of Christ.” (Ephesians 4:12, page 1514)

9. Forgiveness results in FREEDOM.

We are called to be forgiving people. When we hold a grudge, we are in bondage to the person we refuse to forgive. We forget that forgiveness involves only us, and that the person we need to forgive really isn’t part of the process. So there is no real excuse for not being obedient and forgiving others as we have been forgiven by God.

“You were dead because of your sins and because your sinful nature was not yet cut away. Then God made you alive with Christ, for he forgave all our sins. He canceled the record of the charges against us and took it away by nailing it to the cross.” (Colossians 2:13-14, page 1533)

10. Confession will result in HEALING.

You may have wondered why it is so important to confess your inventory to another person as part of your recovery. Healing comes as a result of confessing. We experience something powerful when we confess our shortcomings and failures not only to God but also to another person.

“Confess your sins to each other and pray for each other so that you may be healed. The earnest prayer of a righteous person has great power and produces wonderful results.” (James 5:16, page 1607)

11. Restitution will result in CLOSURE.

Not all acts of restitution are financial repayments, although that can be a very effective way in some circumstances to make restitution. But we need also to make restitution for emotional hurts, or for other non-financial issues. Until we explore ways to make all kinds of restitution, we will struggle with moving on and experiencing closure.

“They must confess their sin and make full restitution for what they have done, adding an additional 20 percent and returning it to the person who was wronged.” (Numbers 5:7, page 177)

12. Responsibility will result in SECURITY.

This is one of the most obvious results of our experiencing life recovery. We have not only made restitution; we have also begun to act responsibly in all areas of our lives. Responsibility is living up to our part of life, not blaming or expecting someone else to make up for our lack. We experience a genuine sense of security when we are doing our part—living responsibly in our everyday lives.

“Then God said to Abraham, ‘Your responsibility is to obey the terms of the covenant. You and all your descendants have this continual responsibility. This is the covenant that you and your descendants must keep.’” (Genesis 17:9-10, page 25)

THE TWELVE MISSTEPS OF LIFE RECOVERY

These false thoughts and assumptions have derailed many in their recovery, and some reflect the mistaken thinking of people sincerely trying to do things God's way. Awareness is the first step in avoiding these common pitfalls.

1. "I can quit tomorrow."

Tomorrow has no power or strength to initiate change into your life. Today—right now—is where the power is! Waiting even one more day is a decision to stay on a path that has proven to be destructive.

"How do you know what your life will be like tomorrow? Your life is like the morning fog—it's here a little while, then it's gone. . . . Remember, it is sin to know what you ought to do and then not do it." (James 4:14, 17, page 1606)

2. "I can handle it by just trying harder or having more willpower."

Under your own strength you have lived a life that has led to disappointment for you and for those who care about you. Under your own strength you have found only momentary victory or short-term progress. Under God's strength you will experience transforming power that will last forever.

"But those who trust in the LORD will find new strength. They will soar high on wings like eagles. They will run and not grow weary. They will walk and not faint." (Isaiah 40:31, page 892)

3. "Turning my life over to Christ is the only step I need."

Turning your life over to Christ and repenting of your sins is a huge first step. Surrendering to him is the most important step. But it is still just the beginning. It does not instantly build your character or make you mature in your faith. Working through the steps based on God's Word will lead you to a better place of maturity, wisdom, and transformed character.

"Solid food is for those who are mature, who through training have the skill to recognize the difference between right and wrong. So let us stop going over the basic teachings about Christ again and again. Let us go on instead and become mature in our understanding." (Hebrews 5:14–6:1, page 1582)

4. "Twelve Step groups that don't talk about Jesus aren't worth my time."

A recovery group that focuses on Christ is helpful for anyone's recovery, but a group like that may not exist anywhere near you. And if we segregate ourselves from others who don't know Christ, they will not hear the message of hope and restoration that we have. You can be a light to another who is walking in darkness.

"I have come as a light to shine in this dark world, so that all who put their trust in me will no longer remain in the dark." (John 12:46, page 1363)

5. "While recovery might be good for some, it just isn't right for me."

If you have made a decision to surrender your life and your problem to God, you have made a very bold move. But your enemy will be the tendency to drift—to move away from surrender and to compromise, jeopardizing the progress you've made. Recovery prevents you from drifting, providing a path to growth and maturity and the support you need to succeed.

"But you must continue to believe this truth and stand firmly in it. Don't drift away from the assurance you received when you heard the Good News." (Colossians 1:23, page 1532)

6. "If I follow the Bible, I don't really need to work the Twelve Steps."

Working the Twelve Steps is following the Bible. It is a path through the Bible designed specifically for those who used to have a problem but whose problem now has them. It is a path of hope, healing, and restoration based on God's truth that will totally change the way you think.

"Don't copy the behavior and customs of this world, but let God transform you into a new person by changing the way you think. Then you will learn to know God's will for you, which is good and pleasing and perfect." (Romans 12:2, page 1447)

7. "Since I'm accountable to God, I don't need a sponsor."

You certainly are accountable to God, but God has also instructed us to be in healthy and supportive relationships with others. You will grow much stronger and more quickly if you have someone to guide you, encourage you, and hold you accountable.

"As iron sharpens iron, so a friend sharpens a friend." (Proverbs 27:17, page 816)

8. "Since God has forgiven me, I don't need to go back to rehash what I've done."

Yes, God has forgiven you if you have confessed and changed your ways. But he clearly instructs us to not stop with him. When we open up to someone else, it connects us, keeps us humble and grounded in reality, and leads to healing.

"Confess your sins to each other and pray for each other so that you may be healed. The earnest prayer of a righteous person has great power and produces wonderful results." (James 5:16, page 1607)

9. "Since Jesus would want me to help my old friends, I don't need to change where I go or whom I hang out with."

The Bible is clear that we need to run from people and places that would tempt us to fall back into our old ways. Some call it changing playmates and playgrounds. But not only do we need time away from temptations so we can grow, we also need to seek out those who are on the same path. There will be plenty of time to reach out to those who need your help once you have established your own long-term recovery.

"Run from anything that stimulates youthful lusts. Instead, pursue righteous living, faithfulness, love, and peace. Enjoy the companionship of those who call on the Lord with pure hearts." (2 Timothy 2:22, page 1562)

10. "Though I can forgive most things, some things are just beyond forgiveness."

There are some things that are so damaging that they may seem to be beyond forgiveness. But forgiveness does not excuse what someone has done or minimize its impact. Forgiveness frees you from having to live in the pain any longer. Some say the most dangerous thing we can possess is justifiable resentment. It does nothing to the other person, but it robs you of the life of freedom God wants for you. "Get rid of all bitterness, rage, anger, harsh words, and slander, as well as all types of evil behavior. Instead, be kind to each other, tenderhearted, forgiving one another, just as God through Christ has forgiven you." (Ephesians 4:31-32, page 1515)

11. "Since I'm involved in recovery, I don't need additional counseling or medication."

When we fully surrender to God, we become willing to do whatever it takes to recover. You may not think you need additional help, but someone you love may need you to need it. Working through your pride and reaching out for additional help, like starting recovery, is never a sign of weakness, but a sign of the strength found in humility.

"Pride leads to disgrace, but with humility comes wisdom." (Proverbs 11:2, page 798)

12. "After making good progress in my recovery, I can start using again in moderation."

If you are on a solid recovery path, the last thing you want to do is try to control what has come to control you. The desire to fall back into it and try it again indicates that you need additional step work, meetings, and other support. Don't go back and relive the hurt and pain you experienced earlier in life.

"As a dog returns to its vomit, so a fool repeats his foolishness." (Proverbs 26:11, page 815)

THE TWELVE GIFTS OF LIFE RECOVERY

These twelve attributes are not just results or outcomes for people in recovery, but truly gifts from God. They show that recovery doesn't merely provide escape from a destructive problem. It also points toward the possibility of a new and exceptional life.

1. Hope—"We can rejoice, too, when we run into problems and trials, for we know that they help us develop endurance. And endurance develops strength of character, and character strengthens our confident hope of salvation. And this hope will not lead to disappointment. For we know how dearly God loves us, because he has given us the Holy Spirit to fill our hearts with his love" (Romans 5:3-5, page 1437).

2. Power—"For I can do everything through Christ, who gives me strength" (Philippians 4:13, page 1526). "For God has not given us a spirit of fear and timidity, but of power, love, and self-discipline" (2 Timothy 1:7, page 1561).

3. Character—"But the Holy Spirit produces this kind of fruit in our lives: love, joy, peace, patience, kindness, goodness, faithfulness, gentleness, and self-control. There is no law against these things!" (Galatians 5:22-23, page 1505).

4. Clarity—"Now we see things imperfectly, like puzzling reflections in a mirror, but then we will see everything with perfect clarity" (1 Corinthians 13:12, page 1472).

5. Security—"Fear of the LORD leads to life, bringing security and protection from harm" (Proverbs 19:23, page 807). "If God is for us, who can ever be against us? Since he did not spare even his own Son but gave him up for us all, won't he also give us everything else?" (Romans 8:31-32, page 1442).

6. Abundance—"And this same God who takes care of me will supply all your needs from his glorious riches, which have been given to us in Christ Jesus" (Philippians 4:19, page 1526).

7. Wisdom—"Fear of the LORD is the foundation of wisdom. Knowledge of the Holy One results in good judgment" (Proverbs 9:10, page 796). "If you need wisdom, ask our generous God, and he will give it to you. He will not rebuke you for asking" (James 1:5, page 1600).

8. Self-Control—"But you are not controlled by your sinful nature. You are controlled by the Spirit if you have the Spirit of God living in you" (Romans 8:9, page 1441). "But the Holy Spirit produces . . . self-control" (Galatians 5:22-23, page 1505).

9. Freedom—"So Christ has truly set us free. Now make sure that you stay free, and don't get tied up again in slavery to the law" (Galatians 5:1, page 1504).

10. Happiness—"Make me walk along the path of your commands, for that is where my happiness is found" (Psalm 119:35, page 764). "The hopes of the godly result in happiness, but the expectations of the wicked come to nothing" (Proverbs 10:2, page 796).

11. Serenity—"I am convinced that nothing can ever separate us from God's love. Neither death nor life, neither angels nor demons, neither our fears for today nor our worries about tomorrow—not even the powers of hell can separate us from God's love" (Romans 8:38, page 1442).

12. Peace—"I am leaving you with a gift—peace of mind and heart. And the peace I give is a gift the world cannot give. So don't be troubled or afraid" (John 14:27, page 1366).

THE TWELVE CHRISTIAN FOUNDATIONS OF LIFE RECOVERY

- The Bible supports all the truths expressed in the Life Recovery process.
- Jesus is not just the higher power of Life Recovery, but the higher power for all people.
- Life Recovery calls upon God the Creator, Jesus the Son of God, and the Holy Spirit as the source, model, and power for everything in the recovery process.
- Life Recovery is not an end unto itself but part of an eternal progression toward intimacy with God.
- The process of Life Recovery is not just recovery from a problem, but is the recovery of a soul.
- All activities and resources of Life Recovery are directed toward the saving, developing, and strengthening of the soul.
- Life Recovery begins when independent self-will is replaced by surrendering to God and cooperating with his work in us.
- Life Recovery is a unique form of discipleship, spiritual formation, and regeneration.
- Life Recovery is a path toward sanctification, a life set apart and holy.
- Life Recovery is not about self-preservation but is about learning to love and help others.
- Life Recovery is experienced best with the help of a sponsor or a coach.
- Life Recovery will build up the church, helping to transform it into an authentic, inviting, safe, and supportive community.

THE TWELVE SELF-EVIDENT TRUTHS OF LIFE RECOVERY

- Life Recovery can begin at any point in life, and that includes now.
- The seeds of Life Recovery are planted as we become aware that life is not what it could be.
- Hope for Life Recovery comes when awareness leads to a desire to find a better way to live.
- Life Recovery is not an event but a process that starts when awareness and desire result in a willingness to surrender to God.
- Surrender is shown either in the decision to comply with a program that has worked for others, or in the total submission of heart, mind, and body to God and his ways.
- While Life Recovery can begin in isolation, it must involve walking with others for both encouragement and confrontation.
- The first visible sign of Life Recovery is an openness to share your life with others through honest confession of past missteps and current struggles.
- The Life Recovery process will redeem past pain and transform it into a purposeful future.
- The end result of Life Recovery is experiencing more love from God, expressing more love for others, and feeling more love for yourself.
- Life Recovery helps us realize how our selfish behaviors hurt others and leads us to take action toward making things right again.
- The greatest enemy of Life Recovery is to completely deny our need for recovery, either rationalizing the causes of our plight or minimizing the depths of our despair.
- Lasting evidence of Life Recovery is a greater understanding of self, deeper relationships with others, and solid growth in character.

LIFE RECOVERY FACILITATOR'S GUIDE

WELCOME to Life Recovery. We want everyone to experience its benefits. We all have struggles in our lives—struggles with addictions, depression, anxiety, and challenging relationships, just to name a few. But we all approach recovery differently. Some want a formal recovery meeting with a traditional recovery experience. Others want a more relaxed recovery experience in a small, informal group or in a group they know from their church. Some may prefer learning about recovery at their own pace before jumping into a group or meeting experience. This is the beauty of Life Recovery. Unlike other Christian recovery approaches that mandate how or where recovery ministry can happen, Life Recovery brings Christian recovery to you—right where you are.

The Life Recovery Meeting

A Life Recovery Meeting is the most structured of the options we will explore here. It requires a minimum of two Life Recovery Leaders, one man and one woman. This will provide appropriate leadership for gender specific breakout groups, in addition to a main group time for everyone. Participants in Life Recovery Meetings will need some basic tools: The Life Recovery Bible, The Life Recovery Workbook, The Life Recovery Devotional, and The Life Recovery Journey.

When launching a Life Recovery Meeting, it can be helpful to approach it in four stages:

STAGE ONE: GATHERING INFORMATION

- Who will take the lead in planning? You need to decide who will be the primary organizer. Will it be you, the pastor of your church, or some other leader?
- Who else will be involved? We do not recommend that you start a group by yourself. Who else is interested in helping you lead a group or supporting you in the group?
- Who will be the official group leaders? The best way to identify qualified leaders may be to ask your pastor or other trusted leaders at your church. They will likely know who has the necessary experience, knowledge, and gifts to take this on. Or perhaps they could recommend an outside professional counselor to help get things started. Spend time in prayer, asking God to help you find the right people.
- Will your meetings be open or closed? Most recovery groups have open meetings, where people from the surrounding community are invited. This can lead to significant outreach into the neighborhood near your church. Some choose to have closed meetings, open only to people who attend the church. Some people feel safer with a closed format as it makes the meetings more predictable.

- Find a location in your home, church, workplace, or school, and obtain any necessary permission to meet there and form the group.
- Post flyers announcing the time and place, calling it a support group, recovery group, or Twelve Step group.
- Show up early, set up the meeting space, and welcome people as they arrive.
- Start on time by opening in prayer and by reading the Twelve Steps and corresponding Scripture passages.
- Ask if anyone would like to share for a few minutes. Don't allow members to offer advice to each other or to the speaker, and be sure to enforce the time limit.
- Make sure everyone has a copy of the workbook you choose. Ask them to study one of the Twelve Steps for discussion at each meeting.
- End on time by reciting the Lord's Prayer.
- Be sure that everyone has the necessary study materials.

The Life Recovery Study

A Life Recovery Study can be done with a group or as an individual. If you are not ready for a group experience but want to start learning about Life Recovery, or your small group wants to study Life Recovery together, all you need in order to begin is The Life Recovery Bible and The Life Recovery Journey. You could also use The Life Recovery Workbook, but The Life Recovery Journey is easier to use in a group study context.

The Life Recovery Journey studies through the Twelve Steps in the context of Scripture. Each of the Twelve Steps is supported by four studies focused on passages from God's Word. This provides for nearly a year of once-a-week studies. If you want to continue your studies beyond The Life Recovery Journey, turn to the devotionals, people profiles, and book introductions in The Life Recovery Bible for more excellent group discussion content. Other tools can be found under the Resources tab at www.liferecoverygroups.com.

STEP-BY-STEP LIFE RECOVERY MEETING GUIDE

Welcome (read by the meeting leader)

Hello and welcome to the Life Recovery meeting. My name is _____, and it is my turn to lead the meeting. Please join me for a moment of silence followed by the Serenity Prayer.

Reading of the Serenity Prayer (read by all attendees)

Please make sure everyone has a copy of this prayer.

THE SERENITY PRAYER

God, grant me the serenity to accept the things I cannot change,
the courage to change the things I can,
and wisdom to know the difference.

Living one day at a time, enjoying one moment at a time, accepting hardships as the pathway to peace.
Taking, as Christ did, this sinful world as it is,
not as I would have it.
Trusting that He will make all things right
if I surrender to His will.
That I may be reasonably happy in this life
and supremely happy with Him forever in the next.
Amen.

Opening Comments (read by the meeting leader)

This Life Recovery meeting is a fellowship of men and women who are applying the spiritual principles and concepts of the Twelve Steps to our everyday lives. By doing so, we have found a greater spiritual connection with God, others, and ourselves. We hope that by attending this community you may find the same connection and spiritual growth as we have. Everyone is welcome to attend no matter what their life issue or addiction.

We believe that addictions and other problematic behaviors are symptoms of our human condition—attempting to live life apart from God’s plan. Structured groups and meetings offer assistance and support for finding freedom from behaviors that sabotage our spiritual and emotional health. By following the Twelve Steps and related principles, we are making progress toward healing and finding a faith that works.

We who live, or have lived, a life apart from God’s will, understand as perhaps few others can, the despair that comes with such a life. We have been lonely and frustrated. But in recovery, we discover that it is possible for us to find contentment, even happiness, whether all of our problems are solved or not. Our situations are bound to improve as we apply the Twelve Steps and related principles to our lives.

Life Recovery is the recovery program sponsored by this church with the goal of introducing people to Christ-centered recovery.

Reciting of the Twelve Steps (read by the meeting leader)

The spiritual discipline of the Twelve Steps is an important foundation for our group, so I have asked _____ to read the Twelve Steps of Life Recovery for us (top of page A13 in The Life Recovery Bible).

The Twelve Steps of Life Recovery

- We admitted we were powerless over our problems—that our lives had become unmanageable.
- We came to believe that a Power greater than ourselves could restore us to sanity.
- We made a decision to turn our wills and our lives over to the care of God.
- We made a searching and fearless moral inventory of ourselves.
- We admitted to God, to ourselves, and to another human being the exact nature of our wrongs.
- We were entirely ready to have God remove all these defects of character.
- We humbly asked God to remove our shortcomings.
- We made a list of all persons we had harmed and became willing to make amends to them all.

THRIVING IN A SECULAR RECOVERY GROUP

A Personal Perspective by Misty Arterburn

SINCE The Life Recovery Bible was published twenty-five years ago, many Christ-centered recovery groups have been launched. This has been a wonderful development for we who identify Jesus as our Higher Power.

However, over the years I have met many fellow strugglers who started their process of healing in a traditional secular recovery group, just as I did. And though these groups were not explicitly Christian, Jesus clearly revealed himself to me there. My recovery journey began with amazing people who referred to God only as the “Power greater than me” or “God as I understand Him.” But in this context, God showed me truths about Jesus that I hadn’t understood before, filling me with a deeper understanding and experience of him.

We’ve all had pivotal moments in our lives. I want to share one of mine with you. In 1994, I was married and had two young sons, a toddler and a new baby. My husband at that time and I both had problems that were just getting worse and were jeopardizing the security of our family. I turned on my radio during this time and discovered a nationally-syndicated call-in program. The hosts of this show were Christian counselors taking calls from folks all over the country. These people were openly talking about their problems, asking for guidance, and finding answers. The show was called New Life Live.

I began tuning in from time to time. And in time, I grew to love the hosts on the show. I loved Dave Stoop because he had a voice that made me feel safe back then, as it still does. And I loved listening to Steve Arterburn because he was boldly saying things most Christians wouldn’t talk about, and he also made me laugh.

The hosts never seemed shocked or offended by callers, and that struck me. They even found humor in the absurd and, in doing so, helped me to see and understand the absurd in my own life. They didn’t pretend to have it all together, genuinely seeming to care about and accept callers just as they were. The hosts didn’t judge or reject people for their problems or for engaging in the blatant sins that had entangled them. They reminded me of Jesus, how he just loves us where we are, and then offers us so much more.

Up until then, I thought counseling was for someone else and something I would never do. But because of what I was hearing on New Life Live, I began to think that if this is what it was like to talk with a counselor, maybe I could do that too. For the first time, I made a bold move and went to get help. It wasn’t long before my counselor referred me to my first Twelve Step group for codependency, and eventually I found my way to an open Al-Anon meeting. It was there that I began to work on the trauma I had experienced in my marriage and all the brokenness that led to our unhealthy patterns.

After another year of regularly attending that meeting, I made the

LIFE-GIVING RECOVERY GROUPS IN THE CHURCH

by Misty Arterburn

I FOUND FREEDOM in the secular recovery process, and it made an incredible impact on my life. I came to understand the dynamics of recovery groups and the beautiful simplicity of the unchanging steps, principles, and traditions of the recovery meeting. Eventually I learned to lead and facilitate in different types of meetings and settings, and I have recently had the honor of creating and leading several Christ-centered Life Recovery groups in the church context.

Though I have written about the value of staying involved in traditional secular groups, I want to share with you a bit more of what I have been doing in Christ-centered Life Recovery groups at Northview Church in Carmel, Indiana. Having had a spiritual awakening as a result of the Twelve Steps, I am carrying this message to others in a new way as our Life Recovery ministry to women continues to grow.

I still remain involved in the secular Al-Anon meeting where I started my Twelve Step journey years ago, but I have more recently become involved in these church-based Life Recovery groups. Believers in our churches have serious recovery needs and may not be comfortable in a secular meeting context. These church-based groups are opening doors to recovery for a whole new group of hurting people.

One group I have helped to create and facilitate is a Life Recovery group for women who are healing and growing with regard to sexual integrity. These women come together with different types of wounds, trauma, and behaviors, and they want to experience recovery. We call this meeting WholeHearted. The women in this meeting take an honest look at their lives and involvements, wounds and character defects, and work the Twelve Steps for the recovery of sexual and relational wholeness.

People at the church and others observing from a distance are somewhat surprised by the reality of this need within the church. Just like so many men twenty years ago who were just beginning to talk about their sexual integrity issues at church, these women are now having this deep need met. They are so grateful as they experience transformation through God's truth and redemptive relationships.

Our second group is the one we simply call Recovery Girls. This group is for any woman who wants to learn, grow, and mature in recovery. There is no specific designation to this recovery group, and any woman can come. We have welcomed women with many different struggles—including alcoholism and adult children of alcoholics, sex and love addictions, food addictions, codependency, and trauma recovery—and women who have never heard of recovery before and just want to learn more about it. Though these women gather together with many kinds of problems and from all walks of life—Christians and non-Christians, addicted or codependent or simply
